

2nd M8 Alliance Expert Meeting on Migrants' and Refugees' Health

15-16 June 2018

Venue: Rectorate Building (Room "Aula Organi Collegiali") Sapienza University of Rome, P.le Aldo Moro 5, Rome

15 June 2018

13:00-14:00 Registration and light lunch (Room "Organi Collegiali", Rectorate Building, ground floor)

14:00 Welcome Addresses

Eugenio Gaudio, Rector of Sapienza University of Rome

Irmgard Maria Fellner, Chargée d'Affaires, Embassy of the Federal Republic of Germany in Italy

Hinrich Thölken, Ambassador, Permanent Representation of the Federal Republic of Germany to the International Organizations in Italy

Cesare Giacomo Zucconi, Secretary General of the Comunità di Sant'Egidio

14:15 Introduction

Carlo Della Rocca, Dean of the Faculty of Pharmacy and Medicine, Sapienza University of Rome

Sebastiano Filetti, Dean of the Faculty of and Medicine and Dentistry, Sapienza University of Rome

Massimo Volpe, Dean of the Faculty of and Medicine and Psychology, Sapienza University of Rome

Paolo Villari, Director of the Department of Public Health and Infectious Diseases, Sapienza University of Rome

14:30-16:30 Session 1. "The migrant as a burden for public health systems: critical reflections on a popular imagery" chaired by Anneliese Depoux, Centre Virchow-Villermé for Public Health Paris-Berlin, Université Sorbonne Paris Cité (France) and Reinhard Schäfers (World Health Summit, Berlin, Germany)

Access to healthcare for undocumented migrants in France: a critical examination of State Medical Assistance by Jean-Marie André, EHESP School of Public Health, Université Sorbonne Paris Cité, and Fabienne Azzedine, EHESP French School of Public Health.

Malthus is still breathing: discussing health of encamped populations in Europe Paula Puškárová, Institute for Economics and Management, University of Economics in Bratislava, Slovakia

Health-related behaviours in the perinatal period among women in France, is there a "protective effect" of migrant status? Fabienne El-Khoury, researcher in epidemiology at the Department of social epidemiology of Institut Pierre Louis d'Epidémiologie et de Santé Publique (IPLESP), French National Institute of Health and Medical Research (INSERM)

Why the health of immigrants represents a challenge for our society? The future is integration by Sandro Mancinelli, Comunità di Sant'Egidio, Roma, Italy

Attitudes and opinions of Polish society about immigrants and refugees in Europe Iwona Mazur,
Piotr Karniej - Medical University Wroclaw, Poland

Special care for migrants vs ordinary care for special migrant needs: how are service adapting?
Carlo Saitto, Director of the Department for the organization development, ASL RM1, Rome, Italy.

Discussion

16:30-17:00 Coffee break

17:00-19:00 Session 2. “Mental health and infectious diseases” chaired by Lisa Matos, William James Center for Research, ISPA-IU, Lisbon and Carlo Della Rocca, Dean of the Faculty of Pharmacy and Medicine, Sapienza University of Rome, Italy

Mental Health and Disease Prevention for Refugees: new approaches in Berlin, Joachim Seybold, Charité – Universitätsmedizin Berlin, Germany

Integration through healing: Changing the narrative on integration of survivors of refugee trauma, Lisa Matos, William James Center for Research, ISPA-IU, Lisbon – Portugal

Ghata: a Restorative Built Environment impacting refugees mental health in Lebanon, Rabih Shibli, Director of the Center for Civic Engagement and Community Service (CCECS), American University of Beirut, Lebanon

Behind migration: trauma and psychosocial intervention in Central Africa , Alessandra Talamo*, Giampaolo Nicolais, Camilla Modesti* *Department of Developmental and Social Psychology,
Sapienza University of Rome  Department of Dynamic and Clinical Psychology, Sapienza
University of Rome

Decision making strategy for infectious disease management in refugees, Alexander Krämer,
Bielefeld University, Germany

TB screening in migrants: problems in adherence and procedures, Anna Paola Massetti, Gianluca Russo, Claudio M. Mastroianni and Vincenzo Vullo, Department of Public Health and Infectious Diseases, Sapienza, University, Rome, Italy

Discussion

Saturday 16 June, 2017 (Room “Organi Collegiali”, Rectorate Building, ground floor)

9:00-11:00 Session 3. “Public health and migration” chaired by Santino Severoni, WHO Regional Office for Europe, Copenhagen, Denmark and Paolo Villari, Director of the Department of Public Health and Infectious Diseases, Sapienza University of Rome

Mainstreaming public health into migration governance: the experience of the WHO European Region, Santino Severoni, WHO Regional Office for Europe, Copenhagen, Denmark

Sustainable Health Development and Refugees' Health in Iran, Amirhossein Takian, Ministry of Health & Medical Education, I.R. Iran Department of Global Health & Public Policy, School of Public Health-Tehran University of Medical Sciences, Iran

Healthcare access for refugees in Greece; challenges and solutions Liz Joseph (1), Sharif Ismail (1), Dina Prior (2), Meghan Gunst (3), Kate Jarman (4), Miriam Orcutt (5), Matthew Harris (1), Ahmad Tarakji (6), Aula Abbara 1 - Imperial College, London, 2 - Independent consultant, UK, 3 - University of Wollongong, Australia, 4 - University of West of England, Bristol, UK, 5. University College London, UK, 6. Syrian American Medical Society, US

The evidence-based approach in protecting the health of migrants and host communities: the Italian Guidelines produced by ISS, INMP and SIMM. Maurizio Marceca (1,4), Baglio Giovanni (2), Tosti Maria Elena (3), Geraci Salvatore (4), Vella Stefano (3), Villari Paolo (1) Sapienza University of Rome - Department in Public Health and Infectious Diseases, (2) National Institute for Health, Migration and Poverty (INMP - NIHMP) (3) National Institute of Health (ISS - NIH) (4) Italian Society of Migration Medicine (SIMM - ISMM)

Work-related injuries and mortality among immigrant workers in Italy: a national perspective, Giuseppe La Torre, Federica Mascagna, Cristina Sestili, Alice Mannocci, Department of Public Health and Infectious Diseases, Sapienza University of Rome

The ER as an observatory on immigrants' health. An analysis of the accesses to the ERs of the metropolitan area of Rome in fifteen years. Corrado De Vito*, Giuliano Bertazzoni, Carolina Di Paolo*, Silvia Iorio, Annamaria Mele*, Giuseppe Migliara*, Angelo Nardi*, Grazia Pia Prencipe*, Lorenzo Paglione*, Livia Maria Salvatori*, Paolo Villari Department of Public Health and Infectious Diseases, Sapienza University of Rome;  Department of Internal Medicine and Medical Specialties and Center for the Quality Assessment in Medicine and Gender Medicine (CEQUAM), Sapienza University of Rome;  Department of Medico-Surgical Sciences and Biotechnologies, Sapienza University of Rome, Italy

11:00-11:30 Coffee break

11:30-13:00 Session 4. “Public Health and Migration” chaired by Gillian Bentley, Durham University, and Giuseppe La Torre, Department of Public Health and Infectious Diseases, Sapienza University of Rome

Intergenerational Implications of Acculturation and Health among Migrant Bangladeshis in the UK, Gillian Bentley, Papreen Nahar, Nasima Akhter, Khurshida Begum, Adetayo Kasim and Gillian Cooper, Durham University, UK.

Leverage on IT to include refugees in the National and Cross-Border Health Services: the Bavaria system evolution, Alberto Pravettoni, Compugroup Medical SE, Germany

Discussion and conclusions

Rapporteur: Nefti-Eboni Bempong, Institute of Global Health, University of Geneva, Switzerland

Overall Chair: Luciano Saso, Faculty of Pharmacy and Medicine, Vice-Rector for European University Networks Sapienza University, Sapienza's Representative in the M8 Alliance

Hosted by Sapienza University of Rome in Cooperation with

We are grateful to Gioservice s.r.l (<http://www.gioservice.it/>) for offering the catering services

